

Actor's Den

Profiles/interviews of Robey actors — those who have participated in Robey's Advanced Scene Study Workshop, as well as those who have participated in Robey's stage productions.

Advanced Scene Study Workshop: The summer session for Robey's Advanced Scene Study Workshop – led by Robey's Producing Artistic Director, Ben Guillory – meets on Mondays from May 28 through August 2 at the Eclectic Company Theatre in Valley Village, CA. (Cost: $500.) For additional information, email Di Smith (officemanager@robeytheatrecompany.org).

Meet Sammie Wayne. On Feb. 26, 2018, Sammie Wayne IV, a long-time associate of The Robey Theatre Company, and a graduate of DePaul's College of Computing and Digital Media, won an NAACP Theatre Award for Best Male Lead Role in a 99 Seat Theater for his stellar performance in Robey's production of Charles Gordone's play, "No Place to be Somebody," winner of the 1970 Pulitzer Prize for Drama. This poignant interview from March 2016 offers a revealing glimpse into Sammie's multi-faceted artistry.
